

Graduation Readiness Reflection

How well are you supporting your students for life after high school?

In today's ever-changing job market, everyone from superintendents to school counselors has a role to play in helping students prepare for post-secondary opportunities. Panorama's new research-backed graduation readiness survey is designed to give districts clear insight into areas where students need guidance on their path to life after graduation.

Gather Student Feedback on Graduation Readiness With Research-Backed Surveys

Graduation Readiness Reflection Survey Topics

Administer these survey topics as part of Panorama's Surveys and Engagement solution to capture school- or district-wide data. Survey results can be used to spot trends, identify gaps in programming, prioritize interventions, and identify students who may need extra support.

Example topics:

- Career Exploration
- Academic Readiness
- College Exploration
- Career Experiences

For a more robust graduation readiness snapshot, leverage Panorama's Employability Skills survey.

Graduation Readiness Reflection Check-Ins Questions

Administer these questions in Panorama's Check-Ins tool throughout the year to help students reflect on their interests and strengths and connect who they are to potential future careers.

Example questions:

- Of the things you're good at or interested in, which would you like to get better at?
- How well do you understand how your interests and strengths could lead to different career paths?
- Would you like to talk with someone about careers that are related to your interests and strengths?
